

Terms and Conditions - Private Lessons/Classes

- I have read and understood the cancellation policy as stated below:

"FirstLine Development Group understands that life is unpredictable, which is why we are always willing to reschedule a student to another class date that works better with their schedule. If there is not a workable class date available, refunds are available up to 48 hours before the start time of the class. We strongly request that you attempt to reschedule before outright canceling your class as we rely on your signups to secure our range and classroom locations."

- I hereby agree to pay the amount quoted to me by FirstLine Development Group, LLC ("Company") via cash, credit/debit card, or third-party processor (e.g. PayPal, Venmo, etc.).
- I hereby agree to pay any additional invoices provided to me by the company within 30 days of receipt.
- I understand that services already rendered are non-refundable unless explicitly allowed by the Company.
